The report reaches the conclusion that the five packers threaten the freedom of the market of the country's food industries, and of the by-product industries linked therewith. It adds that the meat packer control of other foods will not require long in developing. The packing firms named are Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Co.

We are pleased to announce that we have obtained for this city the exclusive sale of the Nationally known and Nationally favored

Wirthmor and Welworth Waists

—After a very careful investigation we have arranged to distribute these two nationally-known and nationally favored lines of Waists in this city. Before deciding on this step we learned the Wirthmor and Welworth Waists were being handled by many of the best stores in America; that they had attained through their unvarying excellence a nation-wide popularity; that because of the unique Wirthmor Plan under which they are made and sold that they always represented the highest possible standard of value in popular price Blouses, and further because of this very unusual method of making and selling Waists we would be able to show the new and wanted styles first, in many instances long in advance of their appearance in the market generally.

These are America's only known priced Waists, and they are sold at the same low prices the nation over.

COURT SETTLES FATE OF MAINE CAR LINES

Auburn, Me., July 10.—Justice John A. Merrill of the Maine Supreme Court filed Wednesday his decision in the petitions of the receivers of the Lewiston, Augusta & Waterville Electric Railroad for permission to suspend operation upon the Turner, Whitcomb and Tugus branches of that road.

In regard to the claim of the Public Utilities Commission that it has exclusive control over the railroad and the receivers, he holds that no such intention is declared in the statutes creating and defining the powers of the commission.

He says that the railroad is hopelessly bankrupt and without funds to rehabilitate its badly worn and dilapidated roadbed and equipment, that receivers have been appointed to operate the road and protect the interest of the creditors pending the reorganization of a defaulted mortgage, and the sale on foreclosure, he holds that the court has jurisdiction to operate the road.

He finds that certain shippers on the Turner branch have accumulated quantities of lumber and wood, and it would be unfair to discontinue the service without giving them opportunity to ship out their commodities.

He says, however, that this opportunity must of necessity be of limited duration, as a foreclosure of the mortgage and a sale of the property will follow. If a purchaser is not found the physical property must be sold and removed.

The receivers are ordered to continue to operate the road as at present.

In regard to the Whitcomb branch he finds the condition of the road much similar to the Turner branch. If the road is continued there will be a deficit of $380 exclusive of taxes, while to permanently rehabilitate it would require $60,400, which he finds the traffic does not warrant.

This line, however, is covered by bona fide underlying divisional mortgages which are not now in default. He does not think he is justified in directing a suspension of operations and thus depriving underlying bondholders of whatever going concern value there may be in the line. The receivers are therefore ordered to continue to operate the Whitcomb line.

He finds the same conditions as to underlying divisional mortgages on the Tugus branch and orders the receivers to continue the operation of the Tugus branch.

IT ALL DEPENDS UPON GERMANY

Washington, July 11.—Because of its bearing on the fate of war time prohibition, President Wilson's view that completion of demobilization of the army would depend upon the speed with which Germany executed the military terms of the treaty and with which the pact was ratified by the various nations was widely discussed Thursday.

Prohibition advocates expressed the opinion that demobilization probably would not be completed before the country became dry by constitutional amendment next Jan. 16. They said Germany had from one to four months in which to carry out the military terms that the President believed American troops should be maintained on the Rhine during that time and that in all probability the men there could not be brought home and mustered out much before the first of the year.

Those favoring the repeal of war time prohibition insofar as it affects light wines and beer have not given up, however, as they believe demobilization might be declared completed when the army had been reduced to the 325,000 men ordered in the new army appropriation bill. Plans of the war department are to bring the army within this figure in September.

Mrs. Frank Wasser and little son of New York are visiting her sister, Mrs. J. True Davis of Broad street.

QUIET ON ANTI-SINN FEIN EDICT

in September, 1919.
Ulster Wants It to Apply to All Ireland.

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, July 11.—County Tipperary and the rest of Ireland have received quietly the proclamation of the government Monday declaring all Sinn Féin organizations and Irish Volunteer associations. The proclamation places all local activities in Tipperary under control of the military and prevents all persons from entering the district without a permit, thus restricting business.

It was expected in Tipperary, after the murder of a police inspector at Thurles, that the government would pursue the same policy it took up after the murders in County Clare and elsewhere. The edicts are a reversal to the methods employed against the National League in Dublin's time.

Under the terms of the proclamation, membership in the various prohibited organizations becomes a criminal offense, and meetings of these bodies and the publication of the reports of their proceedings become illegal. The proclamation in actuality substitutes the civil tribunal constituted by the act of 1887 for the military courts martial held under the defense of the realm act. It is taken in some quarters to point to the policy to be pursued by the government when the defense of the realm act is no longer in operation. The organizations are not prohibited anywhere but in Tipperary, although the lord lieutenant has the power to extend the proclamation, which is looked upon as a possibility in some quarters.

In Irish political circles in Dublin not favorable to the government it is believed the proclamation is likely to have the effect of consolidating popular feeling against the government, and to make the situation more unfavorable for an impartial consideration of any self-government proposals. The Sinn Féiners, who repudiate all suggestions of compromise or negotiation on home rule and are holding out for an independent republic, welcome the proclamation as assisting their policy.

The Ulster party is urging that the proclamation be extended to the rest of Ireland, and will decide at the forthcoming Orange celebrations upon a demand for repeal of the home rule act and the maintenance of the union as essential for the preservation of their liberties and the security of the British empire. This is a revision to their former position, departed from temporarily when the Ulsterites agreed a home rule for the rest of Ireland provided that the six northeastern counties would be excluded.

The southern Unionists, who at their convention recently showed a willingness to compromise, are assuming an attitude similar to the Ulsterites against home rule. The victory in the representation of Trinity College it is said, will be filled by the election of William Jellett, who organized the southern Unionists against those who were willing to come to terms on home rule.

The home rule act at present on the statute books is regarded as a national asset, obliging the government to deal with the question, and its repeal, it is held generally, would be resisted by all except the extreme Sinn Féiners. According to the terms of the suspension act, enacted shortly after the war began, home rule must come into operation not later than six months from the end of the war.

Several Irish lawyers are of the opinion that even if nothing is done, the act is so framed that it could not be brought into operation. Other lawyers, however, hold a contrary view.

In political circles the belief is increasing that the government at Dublin Castle will seek to gain time in which to arrange a settlement, by providing for the continued operation of the suspension act, and by the appointment of a commission of inquiry with special reference to the possibility of whether such a settlement might be in with a scheme of federalization designed for the entire United Kingdom. Ireland, under such a scheme, would be on the same footing as Scotland and Wales, but with the posi-bility that Ulster might be created a separate federal unit.

It is not believed that such a policy would gain much popular support in Ireland. The moderates, who formerly favored it, generally have become identified with the new Irish Dominion League, under the leadership of Sir Horace Plunkett. The Irish Centre party, which was established to advocate a scheme of federalization with Ireland, with a parliament for each province, has been dissolved, and the leaders have asked the members to support Sir Horace Plunkett's plan.

Why You Should Buy Coal Now

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?

HAPPY JACK'S W.S.S. THRIFT CLUB

HAPPY JACKS OF PORTSMOUTH, ATTENTION!

There is going to be a corner which this paper will publish from time to time just for you, in a great many places in New Hampshire, the boys and girls have written stories about Happy Jack, or about thrift or saving, and these stories are being printed in their home paper. If you would like to do that, if you would like to see your own stories in print, write them and send them to the "Publicity Manager for War Saving Stamps at twenty-five Capital street, Concord, New Hampshire. There the best ones will be picked out and sent to the Chronicle for use in this corner.

We have a delightful surprise for all the Happy Jacks who are filling their Thrift Chests this vacation. If you are over ten years old and buy two W. S. S. or if you are ten or under you buy one W. S. S. you may have a Hand Grenade bank free. Many shells were made to load with powder but they were never used because the Germans didn't wait for our boys to use them. Once was declared, and these empty shells were put away in Uncle Sam's great store houses. Now a great many of them have been converted into banks and will be given to you as a way souvenir if you can earn it through the summer. Many people are paying much money for war relics, but you can get one free because you are a Happy Jack.

Make a plan of putting away some money every week and go back to school in September with a full Thrift Chest. Uncle Sam needs your money in summer as well as in winter.

Isn't it fine to be a stockholder in Uncle Sam's great company?
Yours for a thrifty summer,
HAPPY JACK.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE MAINE REFERENDUM

(By Associated Press)
Augusta, Me., July 10.—The state Supreme court was requested today by Governor MICHEN to decide whether the resolution ratifying the national prohibition and the act of legislation granting women the right to vote for presidential electors, was subject to the provisions of the Initiative and Referendum. Petitions bearing more than the necessary 10,000 names have been filed for a referendum vote on both measures.

(By Associated Press)
Bradford, Penn., July 10.—Two persons were killed and many injured with twenty-four hours were demolished by a tornado which swept a narrow path through Bradford today. Fifty houses were damaged and one small dwelling was carried a quarter of a mile by the twister.

FISHERMEN'S UNION MAY ARBITRATE

(By Associated Press)
Boston, July 10.—Representatives of the fishermen's union agreed at the meeting today with the Board of Arbitration, to notify the Board on Saturday whether they would submit their cases to arbitration.

COTTON POLICE FOR INDIA

London, July 10.—A committee appointed by the government of India to consider how to improve and increase the cotton cultivation of that country, has made its report recommending the appointment of a permanent Central Cotton Committee in Bombay, to put into effect a cotton policy of improvement.

The survey of American production and increasing consumption, and of the world shortage of cotton makes it desirable, according to the committee, that the Lancashire cotton industry should cease to be so dependent upon the American supply.

MAINE STEAMER LIBEL RELEASED

Portland, Me., July 10.—The libel under which the steamers of the Casco bay and Harpell lines have been tied up since Tuesday was lifted tonight by an agreement between council and by the appointment of a receiver by the state court to run the lines pending the settlement. The decree was signed by Associated Justice Scott Wilson and Charles W. Goring and Edward C. Reynolds were appointed receivers. The tie-up of the steamers has left the people of the island resorts without communication with the mainland.

MAJOR AND MINOR LEAGUES BREAK

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, July 10.—All relations between the Major and Minor base ball leagues have been broken off. At a meeting here today of the committee from the major and minor leagues, the committee adopted a resolution ratifying the action taken by the meeting in New York last winter, in which it was agreed that all relations be severed and that the minor leagues be run independently.

IRELAND NOT DISTURBED BY PROCLAMATION

(By Associated Press)
Dublin, July 10.—County Tipperary and the rest of Ireland received quietly the proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor, which declared that the Sinn Féin, the County Tipperary and other organizations were unlawful and must be suppressed. The proclamation places all parts of Tipperary under military rule and forbids the passing in and out without a permit. The Sinn Féin and the other organizations are not molested except in Tipperary.

In Irish political circles not favorable to the government it is believed that the proclamation is likely to cement the unions of the people against the government. The Sinn Féin leaders who reject all compromise and who are holding out for absolute freedom are sure that it has helped their cause. The Ulster party are urging that the proclamation be extended all over Ireland and they will decide at the Orange celebration whether to demand the repeal of the Home Rule bill and to consolidate the Union. This is a direct contrast to what they did before, when they agreed to Home Rule with the provisions that the six northeastern counties be left out.

And oh!—how the Kiddies like it—and it is good for them. It is the drink Kiddies ask for, more—and more.

Can you imagine any better recommendation?

Why not order your case now—put a few bottles on the ice—and have a real treat?

LID ON LIQUOR IS KEPT TIGHT

Concord, July 11.—Physicians' prescriptions mean nothing to the drug-gists of Concord. Since the first of July when war-time prohibition went into effect, not a drop of liquor has been dispensed by local druggists. It was stated Thursday by a man prominent in that business.

Local men have had their application for licenses under the federal law in the hands of the internal revenue collector at Portsmouth since the 20th of June, but as yet not one word has been received from their applications. Just few people realize the actual state of affairs until they attempt to get a prescription filled. The decided "nothing doing" by the druggist and the little story that he tells has disappointed many a person who is in need of a stimulant. One aged gentleman, it was reported Thursday morning, actually wiped tears from his eyes when he was refused a quart of liquor which he claimed he needed for a bad heart.

HURLEY OUT OF SHIPPING BOARD

Washington, July 11.—President Wilson today accepted the resignation of Edward N. Hurley as chairman of the shipping board effective Aug. 1. It is understood that Mr. Hurley will be succeeded by Barton Payne of Chicago, general counsel of the railroad administration, whose nomination as a member of the shipping board was sent to the senate Thursday. All control over ocean freight rates was relinquished Thursday by the shipping board. Abandonment of rate control, hitherto exercised by the board through a system of charter, will give perfect freedom to shipowners in the matter.

Portsmouth, N. H., Friday, July 11, 1919.

Should Heed the Warning.

There are thousands and hundreds of thousands of people in the country who through a spirit of patriotism and in the practice of thrift have invested money in war savings certificates and war savings stamps, and it is a pity that any should lose a cent on their investments, which are as secure as the government of the United States. And nothing in this world is any more secure than that.

But it seems that sharpers are abroad buying up these certificates and stamps at less than their face value and presenting them for redemption at their actual worth, making in many cases substantial profits. Nothing but ignorance and folly on the part of those who thus dispose of these securities make this miserable operation possible, but there are people foolish enough to be misled by the smooth tongues of the speculators and they pay the penalty of their folly by receiving less for their holdings than they could obtain by stepping into the postoffice, presenting their certificates and stamps and calling for their money, which would be paid over to them with interest.

So common has become the practice of buying these securities from unsuspecting people and those in need of the money that Secretary of the Treasury Glass has issued a warning to holders of stamps and certificates. He says these were not intended to be negotiable, but for the protection of the owners provision was made for their redemption at any postoffice upon ten days' notice, full face value and interest being paid. The government prefers to have the holders retain them until they mature. It expected that most purchasers would do this and still expects that they will, but if there are those who feel that they must have the money there is a very simple way for them to get it without sacrificing any part of it to smooth-tongued tricksters.

One trouble is that there are people foolish enough to believe that the government will never be able to redeem all of its pledges, and these are easy prey for the sharpers who induce them to sell at a sacrifice. When the loan drives were being conducted there were men skeptical enough to believe that to buy bonds was like throwing away money, contending that it would be utterly impossible for the government to ever repay the loans. Of course the number of people who believed this was small, for every man and woman of ordinary intelligence knows that the United States has never yet failed in its promises to pay and that it is not going to begin now. It would be a happy country if all other securities were as good as claims on the United States government.

Those who have war savings certificates and war savings stamps in their possession should remember these simple facts. If they really need the money and must have it let them go to the postoffice and get all that is their due instead of paying tribute to sharpers who would profit through their ignorance and senseless fears.

There should be no occasion to worry about the Elks on the temperance question. At the annual convention at Atlantic City B. A. Campbell, the retiring grand exalted ruler, warned them not to attempt to evade the prohibition law, and they certainly ought not to with their highest office filled by Rain—Frank L., who was elected to succeed Mr. Campbell.

A dispatch from Washington states that municipalities are not bidding very lively for the War Department's surplus stock of foodstuffs. Can it be possible that in spite of all the talk people are fairly well satisfied with present prices, or is "the trade" blocking the wheels that would bring relief?

The Jews of Portsmouth and New Hampshire are ready to do their part toward bettering conditions for their race in all parts of the world, and in their efforts they are deserving of the sympathy and support of all lovers of equal rights and a square deal.

Whether the latest rise in the price of coal is justified or not it has come and the dealers assure us that it will be followed by others as the season advances. It will be the part of wisdom not to defer unnecessarily the purchase of next winter's supplies.

Another big circus is heading this way and this is another testimonial to the prosperity of Portsmouth. The circus men know where to pitch their tents and never fail to select live business towns where both capital and labor are up and doing.

American coal is being sent to Switzerland, where it brings $36 a ton. And yet Americans growl about paying $10 and $12. What a fault-finding lot we are, to be sure!

MRS. SKEELS SAVED FROM EXTRADITION

Trenton, N. J., July 11.—Gov. Runyon Thursday declined to issue at this time a requisition on the Massachusetts authorities for the extradition of Mrs. Effie May Wilkins (Skeels) Lundgren, a former nurse, recently acquitted at Lawrence, Mass., of poisoning a patient, Miss Florence Gay, a school teacher.

Her action was based on the representations of her counsel that she was physically unfit to be brought to New Jersey for trial on an indictment returned in Hudson County charging her with poisoning her brother, Albert J. Wilkins of Bayonne, July 7, 1918.

Mrs. Lundgren would make no attempt to evade extradition, the attorney said, and would appear to answer to the indictment when her health improved.

LOWELL PUTS UP $78,100 FOR RAISE

Lowell, July 11.—The Municipal Council voted Thursday to appropriate $78,100 to assist heads of departments to grant to all employees, except superintendents, an increase of 16 percent in wages. The department not included in the appropriation are assessors and where the appropriation will allow of the increase without further sums being set aside, and the Water and Cemetery Departments, where the receipts are billed under the law to care for all expenditures.

The Council voted to borrow $20,000 for sewer construction.

WHAT DOVER FIRE DEPARTMENT DID SINCE JANUARY 1

The Dover fire department record for the first half of the year shows that the total number of alarms responded to during that time were 51. Of this number 4 were bell alarms, one false alarm, five engineer's alarm and forty-one were still alarms which were responded to by the permanent firemen.

The records show that the valuation of the buildings in which there were fires was $62,200 and the amount of damage done was $5,560.65.

The insurance upon the buildings was $39,200, and the amount of insurance paid was $5,560.65. The valuation of the contents in the building was $219,000 and the damage to the same was $2,960.87. The insurance upon the contents of the buildings was $108,200. The insurance paid upon the same was $2,955.87.

The total valuation of the property visited by fire was $252,100 and the total damage to the same was $8,530.52. The total insurance upon the property was $237,500. The total insurance paid was $8,530.52 which leaves the total net loss of only $225 which is a most excellent showing and is by far the lowest total net loss the fire department has been credited with for many years if ever before. The total net loss above the insurance for the year 1918 was $3,327.00 which was considered a most remarkable showing for the department. The record is one that every member of the department should feel proud of.

It is doubtful if any city in the state has a fire department that can equal the record that has been achieved by the Dover department during the past six months.

SEN. JOHNSON ON ROOSEVELT

Speaking before the Roosevelt Club in Boston he said:

Mr. President and Members of the Roosevelt Club—This is probably the last opportunity that will be mine to speak to you here in Boston for many, many months. And, before it passes my memory, I want, in these last moments that I spend in your midst, to say to you here, and through you to the people of the city of Boston, how very much I appreciate the generous treatment that has been accorded the issue that I came here to present among you.

I realize that yesterday's demonstration had little or nothing that was personal in its character, but that the enthusiasm that we found from early morning until midnight in this city represented the old Americanism of the old Bay State. With my mind engrossed and my heart enlisted in what I think the greatest cause that has come to us since the civil war, I want to say, in the moment of my departure from your city, that from my heart I thank you, every one of you. I also thank this city with a seriousness, an emotion, and a solemnity that I can hardly control for the great outpouring of yesterday, and what was recorded in the presentation of the issue that I consider of most importance to our people.

If the American Republic ever needed Theodore Roosevelt, it needs him today. I would that he could speak to the American people. I read what some pseudo-friends of his say would have been his attitude in this crisis. I do not assume to speak for him. I never shall assume to speak for him. He has always had his own view. Sometimes we have not been necessarily in agreement. I never have endeavored in any fashion to assert that he would have thought one way or thought another. But I know that man's love of this great nation of ours. And when any man, I care not who he is, tries to tell the American people that Theodore Roosevelt would have favored this League of Nations, that man lies.

When I speak in that fashion, I speak specifically, and of the particular instance, the only thing from which we can argue, and the only thing that is presented to the American people now. When I used the harsh epithet that I did I do not want you to understand me as in the slightest degree imputing any evil motives to any individual. I assume that no man would endeavor, under any circumstances, to utter any other than the statement that he believes to be true upon this great question and upon this great matter.

There was handed me today a peculiar and a singular article appearing in which is called The Unpopular Review. And in this article, presumably written by one of the protagonists of the League of Nations, I find a sentence which I resent and which Americans all ought to resent. To read all of this article with the context would be beyond the limit of my time in these closing moments, but I will read you the latter part of it.

I resent that sort of reference to Theodore Roosevelt. Possibly he might have been the one man, the most likely and the most able to obstruct it (the League of Nations). I believe that if he were here he would be the one man who would defeat it. But, as was said by my friends who presented this article to me, it seems like darning a hole upon the grave of Theodore Roosevelt. And no man ought to be guilty of it, even for the League of Nations.

CONCORD VETERAN CONDUCTOR IS DEAD

Concord, July 11.—Ambrose Barton Brown, veteran railroad conductor, died yesterday, aged 68 years. He was a native of Hampton Falls and had been engaged in railroading since youth. Some weeks since he sustained a paralytic shock. He is survived by his wife, who was Lizzie V. Downing; a daughter, Lora M. Brown; a sister, Mrs. Joseph H. Smart, and two brothers, David G. and Ames T. Brown.

THRIFT STAMPS RAISED

Washington, July 10.—Sale of thrift stamps which at twenty-five cents a piece provided $556,023.121 toward financing the war, will be continued permanently by the Treasury. Secretary Glass today so informed the National Educational Association, which recently recommended that government obligations be made available to small investors in peace time.

VERMONT WILDCAT CHASES BOY HIKERS

Montpelier, Vt., July 11.—Ralph Holbrook and Rupert Robinson, two Keene, N. H., high school graduates who are on a 500-mile hike to Canada and back through Vermont, were chased by a panther or Vermont wildcat while passing through Williams-town Gulf at midnight Wednesday night.

Robinson, who carried a revolver, fired two shots at the animal, which ran into the woods and made the night hideous with its cries. The boys ran toward Williams-town, where they arrived at 2 Thursday morning and put up in the hotel instead of bunking out of doors.

NAVY YARD NOTES

On the North Dakota
 Lieut. Comdr. Thomas Mott Osborn who quietly left the Naval Prison for a month's study of the enlisted men at sea is cruising on the North Dakota.

42 Ships at Boston
 The Boston navy yard is crowded with ships and the Rhode Island the last to arrive on Thursday, had hard work to get into a berth there. Forty-two ships are now tied up there. The battleships include the Florida, Utah, New Jersey, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Georgia and Virginia. The last five comprised the old fifth division of the Atlantic Fleet, but have now been assigned to the Pacific Fleet, and after having repairs completed and taking on stores will leave for the coast, going by way of the Panama Canal.

In addition to the seven battleships, there are two scout cruisers, the Salem and Birmingham; 16 destroyers, 10 submarines, the cutter Jason, the repair ship Melville and several vessels belonging to the French Government. There are 15 piers at the yard and everyone has from one to three ships tied up.

At Local Hospital
 Harry Hartford, assistant to the yard safety engineer, was removed to the Portsmouth Hospital on Thursday evening where an operation was necessary for appendicitis.

More Discharges
 Sixteen men, fourteen of which are reserves, were sent from the receiving ship Southly to various parts of the country today for discharge.

Want to Know the Cost
 The department has called for an estimate of the cost of some improvements in what is known as the back channel of the local yard. The proposed plan is to tie up small craft there in order to make more room on the yard water front.

Chaplain's Meeting
 The navy chaplains of the First Naval District including those ashore and on ships met at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Thursday with Chaplain C. M. Charlton of the Portsmouth Navy Yard presiding. The morale work of the navy took up a goodly part of the session at which twelve chaplains were present. Chaplain H. E. Rountree, chaplain of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, was elected permanent secretary of the organization.

Advanced in Rank
 Chaplain H. E. Rountree of the local yard has been advanced from rank of Lieut. Junior grade, to Lieutenant. His commission dates back to June 23 which was received on July 8.

Helpers and a Painter
 The labor employment office made a call for ten general helpers and one painter for the Industrial Department today.

Taking Place of Penacook
 The navy tug No. 71 is assigned to the local yard during the repairs on the regular yard tug Penacook.

RAILROAD NOTES

Concluded Duties With the Road
 Howard F. Bidwell, freight claim agent for the Boston and Maine, has concluded his duties with the road. Mr. Bidwell leaves to enter a line of work in New York entirely outside of railroading. Mr. Bidwell has been associated with the Boston & Maine 18 years. He started as a clerk in the traffic department, became a traveling freight agent, was transferred to the accounting department as a traveling claim agent, and went from that work to the freight claim office, becoming freight claim agent in December, 1912. In his new work Mr. Bidwell will have occasion to use his expert knowledge of values and salvage. Those with whom he has been associated for so long will be wishing him all success in his new undertaking.

Renumbering of Trains
 On June 30, the date our summer timetables became effective, on the Boston & Maine a progressive step was taken by the management in renumbering all trains on the system, both passenger and freight, so that in the future possible confusion between divisional schedules may be obviated.

BAKER ORDERS AVIATION FIELD WORK STOPPED

Construction and the Purchase of Real Estate Halted Under Terms of the Army Bill

Washington, July 10.—Complying with the terms of the Army Bill, awaiting the President's signature, Secretary Baker has issued instructions for the discontinuance of all construction work and the purchase of real estate for aviation fields, balloon fields and air service schools. Where condemnation proceedings have been instituted to acquire real estate they will be continued until specific authority has been obtained in each case to drop the proceedings. Devens, Upton and twelve other camps are affected under the bill.

The Kittery Housing Project

About two years ago the tract known as Meadowview in Kittery, Maine, was platted by the writer and the lots were largely sold to prospective home builders.

On account of the war, Meadowview, together with an additional tract (a portion of the Cook Farm) was required by the United States Government for housing purposes, and all lots previously sold in Meadowview were taken over from the various owners by the Government.

The contract had been let for the building of many houses on this land and construction work had actually begun when the signing of the armistice took place, and to the great disappointment of the people of this section the Kittery Housing project was abandoned.

Officials of the U. S. Housing Bureau have announced that the land included in this project will not be offered for sale in small tracts and it is uncertain when any portion of this 135 acres of land will be on the market in platted lots.

The area of land in this town suitable and available for building purposes, while at the best small, is further limited by the abandonment of this housing project and the withdrawal of Meadowview from the market.

The Old Spinney Homestead

For many years the people of Kittery and adjacent towns have been passing by the old Spinney Homestead located at Kittery Junction and lying between the State Road, Government and Bridge Streets. They have admired the wooded slopes and parklike growth of ash, birch, cedar and pine, and many of those familiar with the tract have expressed the desire to secure portions of it as sites for homes.

Held in the family of the present owner for more than a century, no portion of this tract has ever before been offered for sale. Now, owing to the withdrawal of Meadowview from the market, and in order to meet the demand for really desirable building lots in the town of Kittery, the old Spinney Homestead has been platted into lots and blocks and

This Tract Will Be Known As Longvue

The lay of the land and the parklike growth which covers it cannot be excelled anywhere in New England for rural beauty and being situated high above sea level the views to be obtained here are truly grand. From the higher land one has an unobstructed panoramic view of river and country for miles; hence the name—LONGVUE.

Lots in this tract will not be sold by metes and bounds by the lot or miss plan, as the surveyor's plat is to be filed in the office of the Registry of Deeds and all lots sold will be described by numbers with reference to official plat.

Much thought has been given to the work of platting this tract, and as a result there will be no unsightly cuts and fills in grading streets, as the natural contours have been followed in laying out street lines.

Two street entrances have been planned for Longvue, one by Bridge Street and one by way of State Road.

Both these streets will be opened up and will connect with Longvue Drive, which encircles the crest of Longvue. It is planned to make all building inhabitable along the line of this driveway on account of the superior view obtainable at this elevation.

Longvue will be protected by reasonable building restrictions and everything of an objectionable nature will be excluded. Do not assume that you know Longvue just because you have seen a portion of it from the street car road. Visit the high ground and enjoy a view which you cannot obtain from any other point in town. If you contemplate owning your own home, do not recall there will be no unsightly cuts and fills in grading streets, as the natural contours have been followed in laying out street lines. Make your choice early even though you are not prepared to build now.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF LONGVUE

Near postoffice, store, railroad depot, electric cars, adjoining hard surfaced road, easy walking distance to Portsmouth and Navy Yard, perfect drainage, beautiful shade trees, magnificent views, reasonable prices and easy terms.

Call at the Cook Farm, see plat and inspect the property. I shall take pleasure in showing the land and it will place you under no obligation whatever.

TRANSPORTATION TO MAINE
REFUSED EVEN NEAR-BEER

Biddeford, Me., July 11.—A number of near-beer dealers here were notified yesterday by the Massachusetts Brewing company that the express and steamship companies had refused to accept for shipment into Maine any beers or near-beers.

This action on the part of the companies, coupled with the $1000 tax imposed by the government, will make the state absolutely bone dry unless an auto law for the transportation of beer is established between Boston and Maine.

Ensign Warner E. Jones, U. S. N., left Thursday for Newport News to join the U. S. S. Minnesota where he is assigned duty. Mrs. Jones accompanied him as far as New York.

WOMAN SAID TO BE MEMBER OF A
HOLD-UP GANG

Auto Bandits Busy on Massachusetts Roads at Night.

Intimation that there is a woman member of the hold-up gang which has been employing automobiles on the highway between Ipswich and Hamilton reached the police last night in reports of two more apparent manifestations of the gang's activities.

Though no direct reports of hold-ups were made last night, Rev. Fr. Mitchell, pastor of St. Joseph's church notified the police of what appeared to be an attempt to rob him which was called off in deference to his cloth, and another motorist told of being warned that bandits were operating along the road.

Fr. Mitchell said that, as he was on his way to Hamilton, four men jumped to the running boards of his machine. They at once observed his Roman collar and merely asked for a "lift." He granted their request, but they rode only for a short distance. He told the police that he believes they altered their plans to rob him only upon seeing that he was a priest, shortly after he had made his report to the Hamilton police a man drove up to say that he had just turned back from a trip to Ipswich upon being warned by another motorist that there were hold-up men out. The warning had stated that the gang consisted of three or four men and a woman, he said.

Upon receipt of these reports police men from this town and from Hamilton searched the highway from east to end without finding any bandit suspects. They received reports of a group of four young men who had been seen walking along the road in the direction of Salem, but as these had been singing as they walked, no suspicion was attached to them.

The first reports of bandit activities along the road came a week ago when the hold-up band fired several shots after cars which had refused to stop at its command.

SERVICE MEN
APPRECIATE TENT OF WAR CAMP COMMUNITY

The War Camp Community tent in the P. A. C. garden for the entertainment of the enlisted men is well filled each evening and it is certainly a fine opportunity for the men to find enjoyment. Thursday evening there was a very large number over in town, many being new comers and their first visit to the tent was a pleasant one.

Each week day evening there is dancing, Miss Alice Tobey of Elliot presiding at the piano and Mr. Nelson assisting with traps. The hostesses introduce the men in the service to the young women present and find their partners if they are new comers. The home cooked food in the cafeteria is much appreciated, Miss Nellie Leary being an adept in the culinary art and the appetizing dishes which she prepares are eagerly sought by the kids in blue or khaki and there are many patrons at serving time each evening.

In front of the cafeteria is a screened porch, arranged as a lounging room, with a rug, easy chairs and a large table on which is an electric lamp, and here the soldier or sailor had may read the daily paper or late periodicals provided, or write letters to the home folks or other friends, stationery, pen and ink being provided by the War Camp Community Service. Around the tent are small tables where lunches may be enjoyed and here the service men play games at times in preference to dancing or off and chat with shipmates or friends.

PAYING PREMIUM FOR STEAMER

Toldo, July 10.—So difficult is it to obtain passage on any steamer for the United States or Canada that advertisements are beginning to appear in the newspapers offering a premium for cabins or berths already reserved. The overbooking is due to the fact that a large number of Japanese are visiting the United States and Europe and that many foreign residents are visiting their homelands.

FINED $25. FOR CAUSING WIFE'S DEATH

Seoul, Korea, July 11.—The Rev. Eugene Bell, of Shelbyville, Kentucky, has appealed from the judgment of the local court whereby he was fined the equivalent of $25 for criminal carelessness in accidentally causing the death of his wife and a friend in an automobile accident. The judgment stipulated that in default of payment Mr. Bell must serve ten days imprisonment.

It is understood that the friends of Mr. Bell, who is engaged in missionary work, urged him to fight the case.

The accident occurred March 26 at an unimproved grade crossing when the Seoul express ran down the automobile which Mr. Bell was driving. Mrs. Bell and the Rev. Paul S. Crane, of Yazoo city, Mississippi, were instantly killed and the Rev. Robert Knox of Galveston, Texas, a third passenger, was injured, finally losing an eye as a result.

MEDAL FOR AMERICAN AIR FORCE

Rome, July 11.—Dora Ohlfsen, designer of the Anzac medal, has produced in her Rome studio, a new medal dedicated to the American air force. The face side consists of the head of an American aviator, the model for which had served in the American air-force operating on Italy's front, surrounded by an allegorical design symbolical of America's will and power.

The reverse side of the medal is symbolical of the task America accomplished in transporting her fighting forces across the seas and bearing an inscription taken from President Wilson's message to Congress which reads:

"There is therefore but one response possible from us: Force, force to the utmost; force, without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world, and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust."

Mrs. Ohlfsen is an Australian.

BASE BALL AND OTHER THINGS

A game of base ball is being arranged for Saturday afternoon at the Play grounds when the Somersworth team, which last Saturday defeated the Navy Yard team, will play a picked team from this city. Henry Cragen is arranging the game and he will pick the best he can get from the Sunset league and if the Somersworth's get away with the game they will be playing real base ball. Either Horan of the Atlantic or Scruton of the Navy Yard will pitch and Ralph Brackett will catch.

The games in the Sunset league this year are attracting more than ordinary attention and the attendance as well as the collections are much better than former years. Not that the collections are big for the size of the crowd, for there are the usual steady who never pay a nickel to see any of the games, and then there are the others who drop a penny or a nickel into the box and class themselves in the generous class. These same people would cheat themselves playing solitaire.

The Southern has by far the best ball team that has ever been in a league in this city. They play fine ball and they are a gentlemanly bunch of ball players. In Kelley and Kindel they have two good pitchers and when they are going right, they are as good as any in the league.

The Y. M. C. A. seems to be the only weak team of the league, they had hard luck, but expect to strengthen their team right off. The P. A. C. with their new make-up and with Brackett behind the bat are much stronger and they will be hard to beat from now on. The Knights have a good team and they also have added one or two new players who will help the team. The Atlantic have showed the greatest improvement and they are now strong enough for the league. The same is true of the Navy Yard civilian team. The league has a month more to go and it is anybody's championship, although the real contenders appear to be the Atlantic, Navy Yard and Southern, but with plenty of chance for either the R. C. or the P. A. C. to nose into that place.

Tennis which had a considerable set back during the war, is now coming back, there is much more being played. This is true about the summer resorts. During the war there were comparatively few of the young men about. The greater number were with the colors, but most of them are now back and the tennis courts are getting a greater call.

There is more golf being played this summer than ever before. All of those who have played the game are back in the game, and there are hosts of new ones trying it out. There is considerable golfing interest among the naval officers and many of them play almost every afternoon at the Country Club. York Country Club is having a great year and the club attendants state that there have been more people playing golf up to the present time than all of last summer. So great is the interest that in August it is figured that it will be hard work making care of the number of people who want to play.

Mr. J. Winslow Pelee, vice president of the Portsmouth Country Club has presented the club with a silver cup for the club championship. It is proposed to have the play based on the handicap rating, and all match plays. The Golf committee are preparing the plans at present and it is proposed to match all of the entries and then by a series of match games eliminate down until two men will be left to play in the finals. The matches will all be played with the regular handicap allowance.

MAKES NEW RULING ON NARCOTICS

The published announcement that the internal revenue department in Washington has revoked its ruling of May 16 relative to prescriptions for narcotics, on account of the increased demand for "dope" resulting from the dry enforcement, has set some of the druggists to wondering just what this means. The ruling referred to permitted physicians to dispense or prescribe narcotic drugs in quantities more than necessary to meet the immediate demands of a patient.

URGED TO PUT MEXICO ON FEET

Washington, July 11.—Renewed representations on the Mexican situation have been made to the American government by Great Britain and France. It was learned Thursday at the state department. For several months these countries have been urging upon the United States the desirability of putting Mexico on her feet so that she might resume the payment on her national and other debts and afford adequate protection to foreign lives and property.

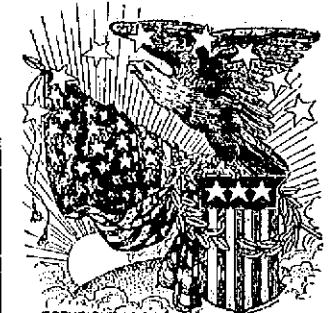

British citizens are holders of a considerable amount of Mexican bonds both national and railway, while the French have extensive investments in the banks which it has been charged were looted by the government under the guise of obtaining "loans."

GIVEN RECEPTION

Y. M. C. A. Secretary and Bride Guests of Methodist Parish.

A pleasant event occurred at the Methodist vestry on Wednesday evening, the occasion being a reception given to Secretary Leroy C. Schmalzried of the Y. M. C. A. and Mrs. Schmalzried, whose marriage took place recently, and who have lately removed to this city.

Mr. Schmalzried is a member of the official board of the Methodist church and teacher of a Sunday school class and since taking up his duties in Portsmouth has done able work in the community. He is much interested in his work at the Y. M. C. A. and the success of his efforts there is readily seen, while he has the good of the town at heart and is most popular with the Y. M. C. A. members.

The vestry was prettily decorated with flowers and vases furnished by the Girls' Service Class, the adornments being arranged on tables, stands and also on the piano.

The receiving party stood in the church parlor and Mr. and Mrs. Schmalzried were assisted in receiving by the pastor, Rev. E. P. Newell and wife, Miss Margarette G. Jenness, president of the Epworth League, and Deaconess Mae Smith.

Members of the Forward Class acted as ushers and during the reception Miss Pauline Taylor presided at the piano and rendered choice selections.

After the reception a program was presented, the numbers being as follows:

Piano duet, Misses Margarette G. Jenness and Miss Pauline Taylor.

Vocal solo, Mrs. Percy Philsted.

Vocal solo, Miss Gertrude Briddle accompanied, Miss Gladys Robinson.

Address of welcome, Rev. E. P. Newell, "The Good Will from the Pastor's Standpoint."

Piano solo, Miss Taylor.

Response to addresses, Mr. Schmalzried.

A pleasing incident of the evening was the presentation of a bouquet of cut flowers to Mrs. Schmalzried by the Forward class. Mr. Schmalzried being teacher of the class and the tribute was graciously received.

After the program refreshments of ice cream and assorted cake were served. The table was prettily arranged with china and silver and decorated with flowers. Miss Mae Smith and her Sunday school class were in charge of the serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmalzried gave evidence of hearty appreciation of the gathering arranged in their honor and all present were glad of the opportunity to extend good wishes to the bride and groom.

Mrs. William Briddle, first vice-president of the Ladies' Aid society, was in general charge of the arrangements of the affair.

HELD MONTHLY MEETING

The Minute Men's Bible class of the Christian church held its monthly meeting Monday evening in the church vestry at 7:30 o'clock. After the business was concluded instead of the usual social time the pastor and class went in a body to the Y. M. C. A. to hear Tommy Ryan, the oldest living athlete, give his talk on "Clean Living" and to witness his feats of skill.

THE BUSINESS OF FURNISHING A HOME

Is a very serious undertaking for the housekeeper especially if one's means are limited. It is equally serious for the dealer whose reputation for fair dealing and good furniture is in the balance. There is no use disguising the fact that good furniture is much more costly than it was a few years ago—the war has depleted the forests of walnut, oak and other hard woods—millions of gun stocks were needed to equip the boys "over there," and whole forests were cut down to meet the demand.

In spite of the higher cost, however, we can equip your home with a wonderful selection of good furniture, at a price as reasonable as is consistent with quality and style and the abnormal conditions which have prevailed in the manufacture of all classes of merchandise during the past few years.
